Your job

We are looking for a Python/Django Web Developer in Switzerland to extend and improve our product. Together with your UI front-end team mates and JavaScript specialists you will implement next generation applications. You will be responsible for the background services and data models and act as the connection to the front-end development.

What you offer

- Love for creating cool web applications
- Python, Django and test-driven development
- You are coding with performance, scalability and resource usage in mind
- REST, NoSQL (e.g. MongoDB) – nothing new to you
- Basic knowledge of HTML, CSS and JQuery is a plus
- Willing to spend a lot of time to create a perfect product

If you have any projects on GitHub or other platforms let us know.

Why join us?

- Work in a team of dynamic, enthusiastic and young colleagues. Enjoy flexible working hours.
- Engage yourself in developing our products. We take every opinion seriously.
- Mac Book Pro or PC Notebook – you decide what you want to work with.
- Attend a free education program of your choice every year and stay on top of new inventions & technologies.
- Time for research: Friday afternoons are blocked for research & gadget development.
- Get 500 CHF on your next iPhone or Android and get a part of your monthly phone bill paid.
- Participate in our team events for sport and fun. Use our relax zone for playing table soccer or poker, gaming and watching videos or toughen up in our fitness room. Receive a massage every Friday to relax.
- Free “Halbtax”: use public transport in Switzerland for half the price.
- Attend our beer Thursdays.
- Benefit from our excellent social and accident insurance.
